Open house to showcase Williamson Medical Center outpatient therapy

FRANKLIN, TENN. – As millions of baby boomers age, more and more Americans are seeking outpatient therapy services. Williamson Medical Center invites community members to a Physical Therapy and Occupational Therapy open house featuring facility tours from 4 – 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14.

“Our experienced physical and occupational therapists provide individualized treatment for a variety of therapy modalities,” says Pam Trenouth, R.N., director of Physical, Occupational and Speech therapies at WMC. “The open house gives us a chance to showcase our knowledgeable staff and innovative equipment.”

Therapists will offer strength and balance screenings and tips for proper posture and ergonomics. Light refreshments will be served.

Williamson Medical Center’s Physical and Occupational Therapy Department is conveniently located on the Ground Floor of Williamson Tower, easily accessible through the Parking Garage.

Williamson Medical Center, a 185-bed hospital fully accredited by The Joint Commission, provides comprehensive inpatient and outpatient care including emergency services, with credentialed physicians in 53 specialties and sub-specialties. The community-focused hospital offers a wide range of wellness services, screenings and classes. For more information about Williamson Medical Center, visit www.williamsonmedicalcenter.org.
